Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

The History of Nursing group grew out of a concern with the preservation of the provincial nursing heritage. Prior to the formation of the B.C. History of Nursing Professional Practice Group, the History of Nursing Interest Group met for approximately a year. This group had been part of an RNABC History of Nursing Advisory Committee, which was an ad hoc committee of the RNABC Board. This committee had been formed in 1988 to determine what should be done with a history project that had been started for the RNABC's 75th anniversary in 1983. The Committee had also become concerned about oral history tapes that the RNABC had begun to collect.

The first meeting of the B.C. History of Nursing Professional Practice Group of the RNABC was held May 3, 1990. Their objectives are to provide a forum through which those interested in the history of nursing in British Columbia can exchange ideas and information; to encourage interest in the history of nursing in British Columbia; to promote study and research in the history of nursing in British Columbia; to encourage the preservation of materials related to the history of nursing and the lives of individual nurses; to encourage the teaching of nursing history in educational programs; and to disseminate information about the RNABC to its members. It is open to all nurses and other persons with an interest in the history of nursing who are eligible for membership and have paid required fees.

The stated goal is "to have a provincial history of nursing center in the Lower Mainland that is linked online with other agencies and/or schools of nursing in the province holding nursing artifacts or other archival materials". Nurses, it was argued, must understand the challenges and opportunities of the past in order to prepare direction for the future. Efforts were made to incorporate nursing history into the curricula of nursing schools and faculties.

The administrative activities of the Group are carried out by an elected Executive Committee composed of a President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Recorder, and Committee Chairs. Positions carry two year terms. The first President, Beverly Du Gas (1990-1993) was followed by Helen Shore (1992-1994), Ethel Warbinek (1994-1998), Helen Shore (1998-2000) Sheila Zerr (2000-2003) Lois Blais (2003-2006), and Ethel Warbinek (2006-2008). When the RNABC changed its status and name to become the College of Registered Nurses of B.C., the History of Nursing group became the B.C. History of Nursing Society in 2008.

Custodial history

Prior to transfer to Rare Books and Special Collections (RBSC) materials were accumulated and maintained by BCHNS as an independent archives. In 2019, the BCHNS began discussions with RBSC for the transfer and ongoing care of their archival holdings. The BCHNS archives were then transferred to RBSC in 2021. Available documentation on custodial histories and sources of acquisition for the individual fonds and collections that are part of the BCHNS archives are now with RBSC.

Scope and content

The fonds consists of 22.89 m of textual records, ca. 2650 photographs and extensive audiovisual materials created and/or accumulated by the British Columbia History of Nursing Society (BCHNS). The BCHNS Archives established and organized records into broad groups: fonds/subfonds, collections, biographical files, oral histories and miscellaneous materials. These categories of records have been arranged as subfonds and series under the BCHNS fonds.

Materials related to the society include records created by the group in the course of its administrative activities, and accumulated in its function of preserving material related to the history of nursing in British Columbia and elsewhere. Much of the material has a historical value, both in regard to B.C. nursing, and farther afield. A brief history of the Registered Nurses Association of British Columbia is included. While there are some earlier records, most date from 1985 to 2012. The records of several committees that made annual reports to the BCHNPPG are included. For example, the Oral History Committee was established in 1981 to document the development of nursing and to capture some of the stories and activities of B.C. nurses. The Memorial Nursing Portrait Collection committee was established in 1990 to raise money for the History of Nursing Scholarship fund and to provide a lasting visual memorial for a friend or family member. Histories of hospitals and individuals are also documented. Events, programs and displays are documented through graphic, audio and textual material. Reference material includes newsletters, records related to Florence Nightingale and the roles played by nurses in war. Postcards and other historical materials more generally related to nursing are also included. Fundraising initiatives, and financial records are also included along with membership information and activities.

Records not related to the formation and ongoing functions of the B.C. History of Nursing Society are divided into 35 subfonds. While the subfonds do not generally relate to specific functions of the BCHNS, they all contribute to a general understanding of individuals and groups of nurses who have contributed to the development of nursing in British Columbia. Many individuals are represented in more than one area of the larger fonds.

The original collections consist of 5.6 m of textual records and graphic materials, audiovisual material and an extensive reference library. The textual records include a comprehensive collection of UBC student cards from 1921 to 1994, several diplomas and certificates, and conference related materials. Records from the Kootenay Lake Hospital, the Kelowna General Hospital and the Prince Rupert General Hospital consist of nursing manuals, training schedules and ledgers. Extensive photographs document historical and educational displays prepared and presented by the BCHNS. Many audiovisual materials contain records created by the Society or provide general reference information. The reference library contains books concentrating primarily on B.C nursing and will be catalogued and made available separately. Biographical files consist of 2.4 m of textual records and ca. 382 photographs related to nurses who have made significant contributions to their profession in British Columbia. Files include records related to the person's life and career, photographs, copies of publications, memories and biographical information and other records relating to nursing activities in B.C. An item level contents list is located at the front of each file. A full index of the files, which includes a brief biography of each subject and the file contents is available in RBSC-ARC-1831-102-15.

The oral histories consists of recordings on ca. 320 audio cassettes, 72 CDs and related textual records. These interviews date from 1987 to 2013 and are arranged alphabetically by the subject's last name. Many interviews exist in multiple formats or have multiple cassettes and/or CDs. A small portion of interviews of high quality and enduring interest have been copied to MP3 format, these materials will be made available upon request. Hard copy summaries are arranged alphabetically in this series. A detailed index of all the oral histories is located in RBSC-ARC-1831-013-13, which includes interviewer and interviewee names, topics discussed, date of recording and other relevant information.

The original 34 subfonds have been retained and arranged as such under the BCHNS fonds. A 2022 accrual added the Richmond-Delta Professional Practice Group subfonds. Records of the society are arranged in the following series:

1. Formation of the BCHNPPG
2. Annual General Membership Meeting files
3. Committee records
4. BCHNPPG chapter groups
5. Events, programs and displays
6. BCHNPG fundraising
7. History of the RNABC and its membership

9. Published and reference material
10. Artifacts
11. Financial records

Immediate source of acquisition

British Columbia History of Nursing Society Archives.

Arrangement

The intellectual arrangement of the BCHNS has been retained upon transfer to RBSC. The general structure has been altered slightly in order to maintain the unity of the records from the archives. Under the custody of the BCHNS archives, Society records were arranged as a subfonds. In RBSC, these materials have been arranged as series under the fonds. In order to maintain the connections of the broad categories of records and reflect the Society's role as creator, Original Collections, Biographical Files and Oral Histories are also arranged as series under the fonds. The subsequent levels of arrangement have been adjusted accordingly, records remain consistent with BCHNS intellectual groupings. The remaining 34 subfonds have been retained as such.

Photographic and audiovisual materials that were interfiled with textual records have been separated and stored together for preservation purposes. Photographs received by RBSC that were not assigned numbers by the BCHNS have been given new identifiers beginning with PH-2000.

Alternative form available

A portion of the records on audiovisual materials are available in multiple formats. Some recordings originally made on audio cassette have been copied to CD format. A selection of high quality recordings have been digitized to MP3, these interviews will be available upon request. Contact archivist for further information.

However, some items were acquired by the Group shortly after Wright's 100th birthday in 1994, in order to create a biographical file about her. See also the Winter 1994 issue of The History of Nursing Group Newsletter, for information regarding Stoddart's early contact with the Group regarding her aunt's material. Accession no. 2001-03.

Model for Nursing

Date: 1971-1993 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Work began in the late 1960s on a theoretical framework that would provide a basis for specific standards against which the quality of nursing care could be evaluated. Under the guidance of Muriel Uprichard, with the committee chaired by Margaret Campbell, the UBC Model for Nursing "a mental image of nursing's unique mission in the real world of nursing", resulted. Implemented in the early 1970s, it was conceived to provide a "framework for viewing nursing's unique function".

Series consists of Margaret Campbell's 1987 report on the nursing model and minutes of the committee to create, implement and monitor the program.

Dolls

Date: 1985-2011 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Sheila Zerr writes "My fascination with dolls and nursing history began when teaching the history of nursing to first year students in 1971. At this time a display of portrait dolls illustrating the various historical periods of nursing was created. This collection has continued to grow and take form." The changing costumes throughout the years provide insights into both the history of nursing and the changing perceptions of women in this role.

This series includes historical context for these dolls, including many photographs. Some information on the numerous displays of these dolls in a wide variety of venues is included. Sheila often collaborated with Glennis Zilm on the historical research.

The information was designed to be passed on to nurses, and from them to the wider community.

Subseries consists of records relating to the research and writing on the subject of ASA and its effects.

History of Nursing Group Displays

Date: 1997-2002, 2006 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

The collection consists of a record of B.C. History of Nursing Group displays from 1997 to 2001 in the Woodward Medical Library, the Board Room of the Registered Nurses Association of B.C. building, and the lobby of the RNABC building, with a file of photographs from the Royal Columbia Hospital Nursing Week in May 2006.

The first displays were presented in nine glass cases in the Woodward Biomedical Library at UBC during the spring and summer of 1997 in connection with the International History of Nursing Conference and the Congress of the International Council of Nurses.

In early 1998 the group purchased a display cabinet for the Board Room of RNABC at 2855 Arbutus, Vancouver. At this time the Group also began nursing displays on a bulletin board at the RNABC Library.

In April 2000 the Group purchased a wood and fibre glass dress form to display period nursing uniforms in the lobby of the RNABC building, and further promote interest in the history of nursing. The majority of the work spent in co-ordinating recent displays, keeping records, and gathering this material, was done by Jill Thompson-Beaudreau, who died in November, 2001. Others involved in the creation of displays include Irene Goldstone, Helen Shore, Janet Gormick, Sheila Zerr, Beth Fitzpatrick, Glennis Zilm, Ethel Warbinek and Nina Rumen.

Most (not all) files contain photographic records of the displays, and most include some description of the exhibit, including the location and the creators of the display.

Physical description: ca. 218 photographs

12 cm of textual records

Note:

Includes the following photographs: RBSC-ARC-1831-PH-2206 to 2396, PH-0742 to 0744, PH-0068 to 0072.

Arrangement:

In order to retain the collections of photographs contained in each file, files containing photographs have been separated and stored in a box in photograph storage. Textual materials remain in separated files, files with only textual records remain in original box.

[Oral Histories]

Date: 1976, 1987-2014 (date of creation)

Scope and content:

Series consists of oral histories dating from 1987 to 2013. Oral histories are arranged alphabetically by the subject's last name. Many exist in multiple formats or have multiple cassettes and/or CDs. If these are sequential, i.e., an interview that takes more than one tape, the first is given a prime number (OH3) and subsequent tapes identified as (OH3a, OH3b, etc.) Wherever it is known, they are identified as copies or originals. Interview numbers, which are based on the chronology of the interviewing, are also indicated.

A number of the oral histories were not done by the original committee. Transcripts of a number of oral histories, mostly from interviews with Beth McCann, are in the School of Nursing subfonds.

Some individuals were interviewed more than once. Each interview is numbered separately.

Audiocassettes of enduring interest and of sufficient quality have been copied to an MP3 format.

Hard copy summaries of the oral histories are arranged alphabetically in this series. These are of greatly varying extent and quality. Both audio cassettes and CDs often have extensive notes on their cases. Other documentation and related material is often included. Interview summaries can be found in RBSC-ARC-1831-013-11 (3 folders) to 013-12. A detailed Oral History index is located in RBSC-ARC-1831-013-13, see finding aids note for more information.

Most of the audiocassettes date from 1987 to 1990, although a number are either earlier or later. Most of the CDs date from 2006 to 2013.

Physical description: ca. 320 audio cassettes and other material

Note:

Includes the following photograph: RBSC-ARC-1831-PH-2004

Arrangement:

Oral history recordings were originally arranged as a subseries within the Oral Histories subseries in the Committee Records Series. For increased access and findability the intellectual arrangement was altered upon transfer to RBSC. Audiovisual recordings and related textual records have been re-arranged as a separate series unto themselves [Oral Histories].

Finding aids:

A detailed index of all oral histories (recorded or otherwise) is located in RBSC-ARC-1831-013-13. Interviews are listed alphabetically. Index includes date of interview, interviewer information, format availability and a brief summary of interview topics.
