Fonds Description

Lyle Creelman fonds. – [ca. 1800]-2004.

81 cm. textual records.

603 photographs.

2 audio recordings.

Biographical Sketch

Lyle Creelman (née Morrison) was born in Nova Scotia and earned a Bachelor of Applied Science from the University of British Columbia and a Master of Arts Degree from Columbia University. Within two years of graduating, Creelman became Director of Public Health Nursing for the City of Vancouver. Shortly after that, she became President of the Registered Nurses Association of British Columbia. For the next twenty-four years, she established national and international standards for accomplishments in the field of nursing. Some of these achievements included: Chief Medical Officer for the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in the British zone of occupied Germany, where she pioneered specialized nurses' training programs; Chief Nursing Officer with the World Health Organization, where she won acceptance for a philosophy of improved third world health care through adequate training of local workers; and co-author of the "Ballie-Creelman Report," which was accepted for many years as the primary reference for the preparation of public health professionals in Canada. Creelman's accomplishments resulted in various forms of recognition, including the Medal of Service of the Order of Canada (1971), the Canadian Centennial Medal (1967) and Honorary Doctorate Degrees from both the University of New Brunswick in 1963 and from the University of British Columbia in 1992. Lyle Creelman died in Vancouver on February 27th, 2007.

- /89p Two copies of LC head-and-shoulders; Macko Studio, Toronto, (ca. 1945/1949) **

WHO Photographs

It is highly probable that most of these photos date from the early 1950s when she was the WHO Nursing Consultant, Maternal and Child Health, rather than from her later years in WHO (some of the later photos were in other files and are sorted with the separate photos. LC is in a number of them, and I met with Verna Huffman Splane, who helped to identify some of the others in the photos. Information has been placed onto the acid-free folders. Note that these photographs are extremely interesting and important for nursing history, even when LC is not included; they represent some of the most powerful and senior international nursing leaders from what has been termed the golden age of international nursing (Splane & Solane, 1994, p. 116). For example, international nursing leaders such as Lucille Petry (later Petry-Leone) of the U.S.A. and Olive Baggallay of the U.K. are in several of the photos. Some of the photographs have information on the back. Brock Chisholm (WHO Director-General 1948-1953) is in some of them. Some additional information on the top leaders is given in LCs Time Line. For more information, see Splane and Splane, 1994.

UNRRA Photographs

Lyle Creelman served with the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Agency (UNRRA) from August 1944 through until sometime after February 1946, she resigned and returned to Canada. After a stint in Britain (at Coventry) in 1944, she was appointed the Chief Nurse in the British Occupied Zone of Germany.

These photographs from the UNRRA are important both from a perspective on Lyle Creelmans life but also from a perspective of work being done on Canadian contributions to UNRRA. During an interview in early June 2005, Dr. Creelman was not able to identify all those in the photographs, but did confirm some names and faces. Assistance in identifying some of the individuals in the photos was obtained in June 2005 from Dr. Susan Armstrong-Reid (SAR), an historian from Guelph, Ontario, who is doing work on Canadas contributions to UNRRA and who interviewed Lyle Creelman in Spring 2004. Creelman gave verbal permission to Susan Armstrong-Reid at that time to use the photos if they could be found. From anecdotal discussions at a history of nursing conference (June 2005) related to photographs taken by nurses during World War II, it was stated that military personnel were not supposed to carry cameras, although officers (and nurses were officers) apparently could to do so if they could manage these in their personal packs. This may have been the same with UNRRA personnel. Furthermore, censorship of mail was done during the war and this may have continued during the UNRRA occupations. It would appear that most of these photographs (exceptions are the official photographs included) were taken only when LC was off duty and possibly mailed from outside Germany.

LC-UNRRA Envelope #1.

Group of photos apparently showing classroom activities for students taking a nursing aide course in Lubeck, Germany.

These 5x7-inch black-and-white photos (seemingly official -- that is, taken by an official photographer) show what appear to be of classes for nurses aides. At this time, the UNRRA nurses under LCs direction were giving classes to young women in the occupied zone because there were severe shortages of staff for hospitals and in the DP camps. In all these photographs, the young women wear gowns rather like OR scrub gowns or isolation gowns from the 1940s. These gown have high necks, a back closing with ties, long sleeves. These uniforms completely cover the street clothes of the young women. In some of the photographs are UNRRA staff (wearing military-looking uniforms). Only one photo has identification on the back (see first item below).

/103p Two views of 10 young women in white overall gowns with two UNRRA instructors in uniform. On the back is written: Graduating group of first nursing aide course at Lubeck (?sp) Feb 1946. Mary Slotsholm (??sp),

- Instructor N. Mackenzie SAR gives first name for Noreena Mackenzie, a Canadian UNRRA worker.
- /104p One photo of 17 young women (different from the ones in the photo above) with two instructors; the instructors also appear to be different from the ones in the photo described above, although one might be the same but with a slightly different hairstyle
- /105p Two views of posed shots of an instructor (probably the same instructor that was in photo B) bandaging an ankle of one of the students; the instructor and the patient are the same in both photos, but the young women have been moved around. Likely the photos were taken at the same time.
- /106p Two students making the bed, with a third student acting the role of patient
- /107p One student brushing the teeth of a classmate acting as patient
- /108p One student taking temperature and pulse of another acting as patient
- /109p One student changing the diaper of a doll (learning baby care)
- /110p Two views of students around a table in a classroom with the instructor at the head of the table and a blackboard in the background
- /111p Two views showing three students around a tea table

- /112sp Three head and shoulder shots of LC in uniform (ca. 1945) **
- /113sp Photo of Lyle Creelman standing on a path near a tree. She is wearing her UNRRA uniform. Two are identified on the back as Taken at Belsen last fall. On a sunny am before breakfast. Identified on the back as At Dageford (??sp) Oct/45. **
- /114sp Lyle Creelman in a light weight summer-type uniform standing outside a building with Ziekenboeg labelled on door. This was possibly taken at the same time as a group photograph (see LC-UNRRA #3) that was labeled Bagenton (??sp) Fields, March 9/45. **
- /115sp Lyle Creelman on a snowy balcony or parapet labeled on back At Osterode Feb/46. **

LC-UNRRA Envelope #3.

- /116sp Two views of a man lying on a beach edge. Identified during an interview with Lyle Creelman on May 24, 2005 as Sir Raphael Celento, who was the doctor in charge of the British Occupied Zone in Germany. He was an Australian.

- /117sp Four views of group of seven (apparently) UNRRA staff identified on back in list as: Miss Domen (??sp), Stephanie Szloch, L.C. [Lyle Creelman], Dr. Tanbec (??sp), Mrs. Monchin, Miss Bowman, Miss Neuman (??sp). Bagenton (??sp) Fields, March 9/45
- /118sp Two view of six (apparently) UNRRA female personnel standing on a parapet, identified on back in a list as At Osterode Feb/46 Margaret Lapustrom (??sp), Winnifred Harnett (??sp), Frances Pearl, Myrtle Cross, Helen Gleason, Lilian Rankin. SAR identifies Frances Pearl, Helen Gleason, and Lilian Rankin as Canadians and says this may have been taken at a field supervisors meeting at Osterode Assembly Camp.
- /119sp Two views of a group of three women (nurses?) in UNRRA Uniforms outside a brick building (similar shots). Identified on the back of first photo as Miss Watt, Miss Wade, Miss Lindsay Jan/46. SAR identifies two of them as Canadians Jean Watt and Mary Wade.
- /120sp Miss Bowman & a patient in sick-bay
- /121sp Two views of unidentified man At Dogford (October 1945)

LC_UNRRA Envelope #4.

Photos (roughly 5.5 x 3.5 inches) all with typed captions on back. In top corner of each is typed: UNRRA Team 13. Scharnhorst D.P. Assembly Centre, Hameln July 1945 (possibly official photographs).

- /122sp Polish teachers. Group of 11 teachers with two UNRRA (??) personnel (a male and a female, not Lyle Creelman) standing in the centre of the group.
- /123sp Chapel in the Scharnhorst-Barracks. Two children and a young Woman standing at the alter and a male and female UNRRA personnel sitting near the wall watching.
- /124sp Polish school. Two adults standing near a blackboard, with two rows of children at long desks watching and another adult standing near a wall.
- /125sp Warsaw anniversary. Polish open air Mass.
- /126sp Polish childrens school dinners. Cafeteria or mess hall with many children at two long tables with a group of adults standing at the back.

LC-UNRRA Envelope #5.

Group of snapshots with deckle edges, all 2.5 by 3.5 inches, and apparently all shot on the same trip.

These photos show scenes in Germany, and several are identified on the back with LCs handwritten notes.

- /127sp Bagenton Fields in the winter-time Jan/45.
- /128sp Photo of bombed ruins. Identified on back as Typical of the bombed cities. This is in Cologne. At the rate they are going it will take years to clear away the debris.
- /129sp Two views of a Viaduct showing several arches. Identified on back of on as One of the viaducts which was sabotaged by the Germans. There are six in a ten mile stretch of the Autobahn just east of here, all of which had one arch blown. There are temporary bridges over all the blown arches now. Beautiful country around this spot, especially in the fall. Identified on the back of the other as A part of one of six viaducts which the Germans sabotaged in a 10 mile stretch of the Autobahn just east of here. Goes through very beautiful country. A riot of color in the autumn. The wrecked arch to just to the left of the picture, you can see some of the debris on the ground. All these bridges now have temporary spans. The Royal Engineers are OK!
- /130sp An arch of the same viaduct The arches of bridged here are very beautiful and finished in their construction.
- /131sp The front of the Cathedral in Cologne. Damage is from blast.
- /132sp A corner of the Baronial Hall which is the residence of our H.Q. staff in 30 Corps District at Weenstorf (??sp) near Hanover.
- /133sp Bank with destroyed buildings. Identified on back as Clearing the debris in Cologne. The major part of Cologne, Hamburg, Essen, Munster & several other places is just like this.
- /134sp Ravensberger Turm [tower], Nov/ 45.
- /135sp Two views of Cologne (March 1946)
- /136sp Two identical photographs identified on back as The Fish Wife in the fish-market at Copenhagen. The tall one is a statue & not real. (Same caption on back of second copy.)
- /137sp Boats in the Canal at Copenhagen. These boats are just like the Fish Wife shown in the other picture.
- /138sp In Copenhagen at the end of Sept. On the Kings birthday, Sept. 26 a boquet [sic] or wreath of flowers was placed on every spot where a Dane was shot by a German. This one was on a safety zone by a street-car track.

Note: SAR advises (June 2005) that LC made a trip, accompanied by Florence Udell, to recruit nurses for UNRRA.

LC-UNRRA Envelope #6.

Snapshots (roughly 2.75 x 4 inches) glossy.

Note that it is not always easy to decipher LC's handwriting. These photos likely were taken at Coventry, England, where there was a large camp of Dutch children being cared for under UNRRA auspices. LC was working at Coventry when she was assigned by UNRRA and waiting for orders to transport to Germany. The Queen mentioned is likely Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands.

- /139sp Group of 17 or so personnel sitting at a long dining table (mess hall or cafeteria). Identified on back as Staff table.
- /140sp Crown of children with one girl presenting flowers to an elderly lady in a hat accompanied by men and women in suits. Identified on back as The Queen getting some flowers.
- /141sp The Queen in the dining hall. Same elderly woman sitting at a table with two boys with several other tables full of children in the background.
- /142sp Large group (about 50) of young men and women identified on the back as One of the groups. The woman in the centre wearing a hat and a plaid shawl MAY be the Queen shown in some of the other snaps
