Dear Sir:

Please advise me whether small personal Christmas gifts to relatives in Germany are dutiable, if so would it be a general rate, ad valorem or specific?

I realize that it might be difficult for you to answer this question without an indication of the nature of the goods but this in turn might depend to some extent on the amount of duty if any.

In case goods are dutiable could this duty be prepaid and what would be the procedure.

Very truly yours
