Dear David:

Further to our telephone conversation of yesterday, enclosed herewith are new statistics on our bargaining unit with respect to benefits.

I am not certain if everything you need is here. If not, please call our office and hopefully Wendy Bice will be able to help you. I will be away from the office until May 3rd. If you think it would be helpful for Wendy and I to talk to you after you have had a chance to review the enclosed, call us.

We are asking the same questions as before with respect to the analysis of the cost for total compensation of our current and proposed collective agreement.

I am also enclosing a copy of all relevant contract proposals as they will be presented to the University.

In addition to what we asked to earlier I would like to know, based on the information the University has provided us on maternity benefits paid out in 1981, what percentage this amount is of the total compensation package, see too the University's proposed change to our existing article on maternity.

I would appreciate this information by May 17th if possible. Thanks.

Yours truly,
