Meeting Commence at 8:20 pm

Local Reports

Local 2 Report presented- Star Rosenthal. Star has been doing research into the Decision Band job evaluation system by talking to Union Reps as well as to David Ferry of the Trade Union Research Bureau. She also informed us that the Local 2 Executive had met and accepted our offer to print the JJSERC Report. They also approved a covering letter written by John Shaeler to be attached to the report.

MOTION Moved: Lauma Avens Seconded: Jack Gegenberg

That we attach the two page letter written by John Shaeler to the JJSERC Report and pay the cost of printing this letter.

CARRIED

Lid reported on a meeting that he had with Elio Fata, Local 2's Treasurer. Also present were Star Rosenthal, Lynne Taylor Ann Sullivan, Bob Andeman and Daniel Say. A full discussion of the Local's financial situation was held. Star and Lauma reported that at a meeting held that night, the Local Executive voted to 1) pay up all outstanding per capita and 2) keep the per capita up to date.

Star reported that the Local is in a precarious financial state. After paying the outstanding per capita the local will have only $1,000 in the bank. There is some sentiment for asking the Provincial for a $5,000 to $10,000 grant. There will probably be some kind of request for assistance.

Star reported on the results of the Job Split Arbitration that the Local fought. They won! The arbitrator ruled approximately 90% in favour of the union interpretation of the clause. Job splits will be virtually automatic with only the details to be discussed.

Local 5 Report presented by Dianne Kauffman. Lauma's application for Union Leave has been denied by Management. A grievance has been launched and the issue will probably go to arbitration.

There has been a complete breakdown in the relationship between Local 5 and CNC management. All grievances have been proceeding to arbitration. This seems to be a deliberate ploy to break the union. The Local's Executive wants to meet with the College Board to discuss this situation. The local has consulted with Leo McGrady who has advised them that they don't have grounds for successfully proceeding with an unfair labour practise against the college.

Local 5 was accepted into the CCU BC Council on Nov 21/81.

Local 6 Report - presented by Michele Valiquet. The shop steward seminar held at Local 6 was quite successful - 16 people attended at least part of the seminar. The Local met with an IRO over a 96.1 that the Local has filed. A grad student in English who is a member of both Locals 2 & 6 had her job restructured so that it is no longer a bargaining unit position. The Local will be having a hearing before the LRB discussing the merits of a hiring grievance that the Board had ruled -as grievable.

A committee which had been proposed to look into joint activities between Locals 2 & 6 has not been set up yet. So far joint efforts have been limited to visiting each other's executive meetings.

The Locals is looking into setting up a new contract committee.

Local 1 Report. At a membership meeting on Nov 26, the future affiliation of Local One was discussed. A motion that Local One immediately join the CLC by joining CUPE was moved and ruled out of order. The Local Executive gave a detailed report culminating with a recommendation that the Executive be authorised to begin secession proceedings as per the Provincial Constitution. Nancy's opinion is that Local One will secede. The sentiment seems to be in favour of pulling out of the Provincial although it seems to be split between becoming independent or joining CUPE. A catalyst for this secession bid seems to be Local 5's action in joining the CCU and how this action has been handled by the Provincial Executive. A motion was passed approving the setting up of a special membership meeting in January to discuss this issue.

Local 4 Report - presented by Sheila Perret. At a membership meeting on Nove 26, the membership voted to conduct a referendum on whether or ont to pull out of the Provincial. The focus of discussion at the meeting was a report on the future of the Local authorised by a membership meeting in June. It was unknown whether the intent of the referendum was to be a poll of the membership's attitude to the Provincial or whether it was intended as authorisation to secede automatically regardless of the secession procedure outlined in the Provincial Consttution.

Meeting adjourned at 10:15 pm.

Saturday Nov 28/81.

UNIVERSITY OF VICTORIA REPORT - Presented by Sheila Perret. Sheila, Jack and Mary Ogilvie (on behalf of Local 6) met with 5 or 6 headquarters members at the University of Victoria. Discussions revolved around what kind of support that the UVIC members could expect from the Provincial. A follow up letter was sent to them outlining the discussion at the meeting and inviting them to join. Jack Gegenberg met informally with them two weeks later.

weeks later

Jack had an informal followup meeting a few weeks later.

Kathy Chopik reported on the organising to date. The local is organising on the basis of an LRB decision that lab instructors alone did not constitute an appropriate bargaining unit. As a result the new bargaining unit will consist of at least the laboratory instructors, the teaching assistants and other groups in the instructional and specialist workers at the UNIVERSITY OF VICTORIA. There are approximately 540 members in the proposed bargaining unit..

A letter requesting a charter as AUCE Local 7 was read out by Sheila Perret. At the time of request there was 17 headquarters members at UVIC.

SPEAKER - CLIFF HANUSE, BC UNION OF INDIAN CHIEFS

Mr. Hanuse outlined the basis for aboriginal opposition to the new Constitution before the parliament of Canada. He stated that the bottom line was that the aboriginal peoples want to retain their cultural identity. They have been fighting the Federal Government for 114 years so far. The government has tried various termination policies. The Indian Act, the 1969 White Paper and bureaucratic measures. The Constitution is an attempt to wipe the Indians out. The clause that acknowledge Aboriginal rights is weak and will eventually hurt by wiping out Indian rights through restrictive court rulings. Trudeau has been telling the Canadian people that aboriginal people don't know what they want - but in 1976 Native groups passed a resolution defining native rights and setting up the Native Brotherhood which acts as a provisional government.

MINUTES - PAGE 8

When the clause acknowledging Aboriginal Rights was dropped the strategy was to make the aboriginal people want the clause back. What the Aboriginal people want is a CONSENT clause - where any changes in the constitution affecting the Aboriginal people would have to be agreed to by the aboriginal people themselves. The Royal Proclamation of 1763 protected natives from having land taken from the aboriginal people except by consent.

Natives want to retain their identity. If aboriginal rights are lost they will be forced to enter the same system as the rest of society. Indian society is based on the potlach where the more you give the higher the honour that you have. The Canadian system is that the more you take the higher the honour that you have.

Basic rights are at stake. If Trudeau put a clause into the Constitution stating that all citizens must put in mandatory military service their would be an outcry. For Indians their life is at stake.

A legal case opposing the Constitutional proposals is being launched in Britain. This case will cost from $500 thousand to $1 million to push through.

MOTION Moved: Jack Gegenberg Seconded: Lauma Avens

That the AUCE Provincial Executive supports the Union of BC Indian Chiefs in their fight to strengthen constitutional protection and protect their cultural identity - and that a telegram be sent to Trudeau and the leaders of the opposition parties.
