

PLAYING AT WAR

MEDICAL CORPS WORKERS, technically "non-combatants," are vulnerable to shot, shell and gas as they go about their errands of mercy among the wounded and sick—and recent wars have shown that Red Cross insignia is not always respected. Above, a Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps member with full equipment, including gas mask, scanning the skies for "enemy" airplanes at recent Camp Borden manoeuvres

THIS "SCHOOLROOM TANK" at Camp Borden is an electrically driven dummy which jolts and rears, giving all sensations of the "real thing"

THE BREN MACHINE GUN, conditions of the manufacture of which in Canada are to be investigated, is shown in action at Camp Borden

FAST AND "NIPPY," these baby tanks, which are actually machine-gun carriers, were used to supplement full-sized tanks during recent "war games," largest concentration of permanent forces in Canada since the war, at Camp Borden. A trio of the tanks, which are capable of travelling over rough terrain, are seen negotiating a sand pit during preliminary exercises

THANKSGIVING CROP

MOTHER TURKEY looks over her 14 eggs as one after another they crackle. That melancholy expression comes from her knowledge of their fate

TOP-HEAVY, the newly born gobbler pushes his way out of the confining shell. Though the head is too heavy for the body, the feet are active

HERE HE IS. Born only a few minutes and still getting his bearings. By the time next Thanksgiving rolls around he'll be plump and luscious

NEWSPAPER FINDS BRITISH GAS MASKS INEFFECTIVE

TO TEST the efficiency of the British government's new civilian gas masks a London daily newspaper placed them on human guinea pigs in sealed gas chambers. They failed to protect the wearers from a concentration of arsenical smoke similar to that used in the great war, it alleged in streamer headlines supported by photographs. The government now has about 40,000,000 in its storerooms manufactured at an estimated cost of nearly $25,000,000. If war came to Europe, Great Britain would supply masks to every man, woman and child

OVERCOME BY GAS were O. D. Gallagher, the newspaper reporter, and Dr. S. Masterman

HERE IS THE BEGINNING of the experiment. Government officials replied that civilian gas masks were not intended for such intense gas concentration

IN ENGLAND everyone is taught the art of self-protection via gas mask. These kiddies, being taught how to wear them, find they can scamper and play

• "You poor baby lamb! Still got on long woolen underwear! And your mother she can't help it, you have to wear it. Dear — dear! You'd think you were a black sheep, the way they treat you!"

• "Wait — see that beautiful woman over there in the apron? Well, that's my mother! You only have to mention in her hearing that you're somewhat hot and sticky, and she reaches for the Johnson's Baby Powder . . ."

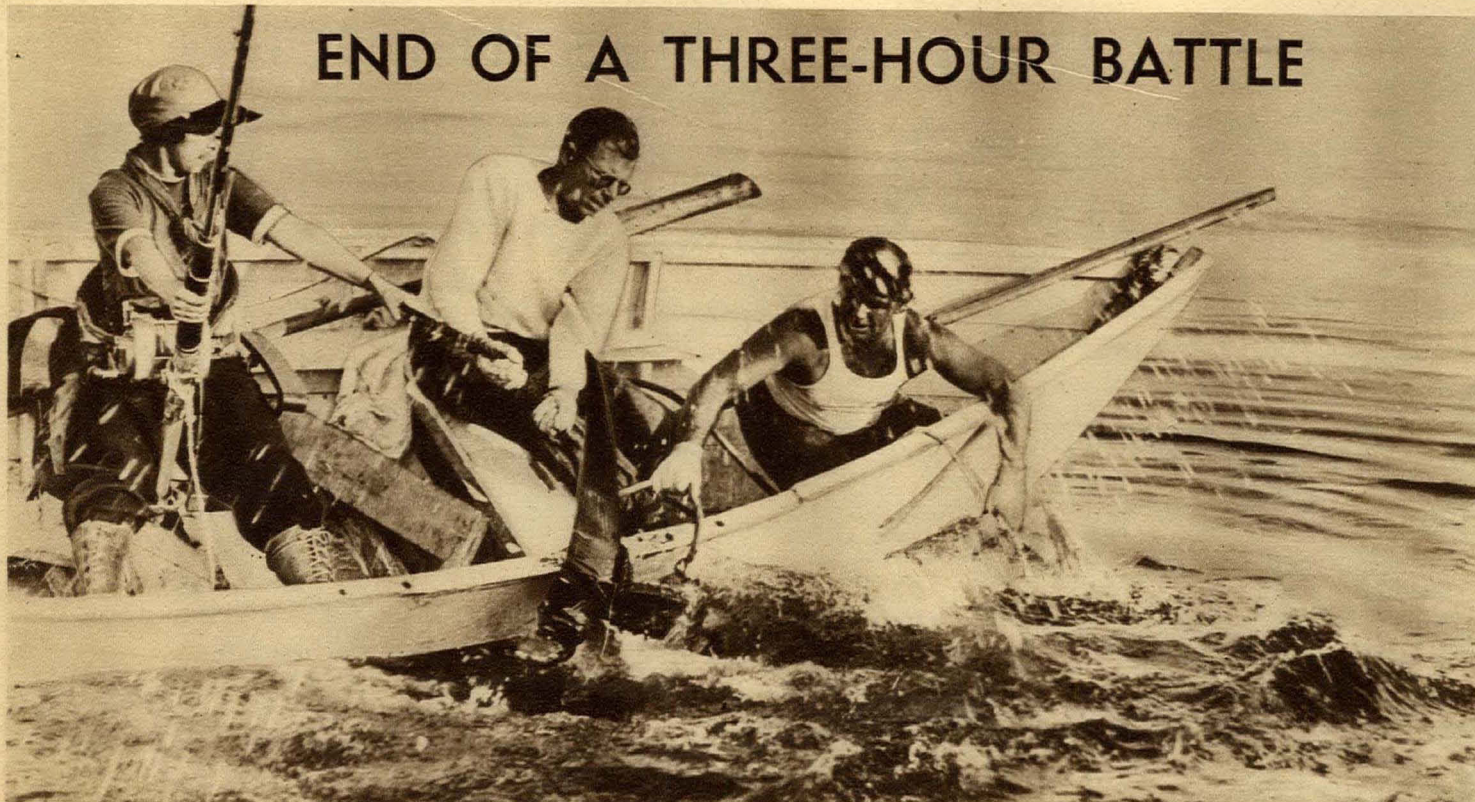

• "Next thing you know, something soft and downy goes tickle-tickle down your back — whee-ee! After that, you can say phooey to rashes and chafes and prickly heat, and play Run, Sheep, Run with the best of them!"

• "Did you ever notice how smooth Johnson's Baby Powder is? That must be why it keeps my skin just perfect!" Perfect skin condition is a baby's best protection against skin infections, Mothers. So guard your baby's skin with Johnson's Baby Powder, the kind that's made of finest imported talc—and BORATED! . . . Also important for the bath-basket: Johnson's Baby Soap and Baby Cream, and Baby Oil for tiny babies . . . safe, soothing, stainless, and it cannot turn rancid.
