INTERESTING TRAVEL
EXHIBIT IS OPENED

It is a far cry from the plains of Canada to the windmills of Holland, but anyone wishing to make an imaginary trip through Europe will be afforded an excellent occasion of doing so at an exhibit which opens Monday in the Redpath Library of McGill University and continues until the end of June. The exhibit is designed to promote travel and the many folders and posters which the library has on hand promise to stimulate the imagination.

Much detailed information is to be had concerning England, Ireland, and Scotland, and the other countries of Europe have not been overlooked in this exhibit, and Spain, Portugal, France, Czecho-Slovakia, Germany, Switzerland, Holland, Norway are represented.

Information as to what it costs to take a trip abroad is also available.
