  - include in newsletter policy:
    - all articles and letters must be signed by contributor(s)
    - articles must state their position - no slander or liable comments will be tolerated
    - submitted articles and letters are not the views of the Communications Committee unless indicated as such - contributions reflect the view of the individual submitting the article
    - no attachments will be included in the newsletter unless it is official union business
    - two types of material submitted: official business of constituted bodies of union; and letters and articles both solicited and non-solicited

The issue of better newsletter distribution discussed; also, stressed the need for more concrete contact with union members.

(put note in newsletter that all meetings of committees and executive of union are open to any member to attend)
