Dear Lissett:

I received a call from the Curric Lab today. Evidently they have elected two shop stewards and are having some problems there. They asked me to explain their duties as shop stewards. I gave them a brief description of the function of a shop steward, but invited them to come here so that we could discuss it in much more detail. I suggested that they contact you first, however, because you are an active steward, calling division meetings (where shop stewards should be elected, etc.) to discuss problems within the division. The person I spoke to, Kitty Byrne, and she is going to contact you to try to arrange for a meeting. If you cannot meet with these people to give them a "lesson" in being a shop steward, they will contact me.

If they don't get in touch with you, you could contact them.
Kitty Byrne, Curric Lab, Local 5381
David Cumming, Local 3080
