Dear Women:

Re: Thursday Night Health Series

At a recent meeting of the Provincial Association of University and College Employees we discussed the Self-Help Health Series which VWHC is offering at Britannia this Fall.

We were really pleased to see that one evening will be devoted to Occupational and Environmental Health - November 29th.

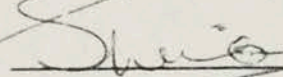

Members of the Provincial Executive voted to publicise the series, and the workplace safety evening, at all AUCE Locals. In addition it was unanimously decided that the Provincial Association should demonstrate support for such a seminar by donating $10 to the Health Collective to help defray costs you will have assumed in order to publicise the series.

We wish it could be more but at this time more than one of the five AUCE Locals is conducting and/or preparing for various stages of contract negotiations.

Please expect AUCE women to attend.

Would you please send to us any hand-outs or research materials prepared by VWHC on the subject of Occupational Health Hazards for Women. In the next few weeks I'd like to call your office to arrange to come over to the Health Collective and perhaps exchange information on this topic.

In Sisterhood,

Sheila N.L. Perret, Secretary-Treasurer
